

CERTIFIED SCRUM PRODUCT OWNER TRAINING COURSE

COURSE SUMMARY

The Certified Scrum Product Owner® (CSPO) course is a two-day, entry-level course taught by a Certified Scrum Trainer®. The CSPO course is designed to cover all the basics of Scrum and also provide a large amount of material devoted to the Product Owner role.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is appropriate for people in the Product Owner role as well as other stakeholders that can benefit from learning about the Product Owner's key role in delivering successful projects such as Product Managers, ScrumMasters, Project Managers, Business Analysts and Leadership.

COURSE OUTLINE

- Scrum Foundations
- Product Vision and Roadmap
- Product Owner Role
- Estimation
- Customer Engagement
- Product Backlog
- User Stories
- Business Value
- Prioritization
- Technical Debt
- Tracking and Reporting
- Release Management
- Scrum Project Simulation

KEY LEARNING OUTCOMES:

In the CSPO course, you will learn:

- Scrum basics and core values
- How the Scrum framework compares to other methods and when to use Scrum
- A Scrum team's three roles & responsibilities
- The scope of the Product Owner's role
- The ScrumMaster and Team roles
- Developing a Product Vision
- Different estimation levels in Scrum
- The Product Backlog—what it is (and is not)
- Release Management and measuring velocity
- Sprint planning and Daily Scrum Meeting
- Ways to effectively deal with stakeholders

ASSESSMENT & CERTIFICATION

- Certified Scrum Product Owner (CSPO) Certification
- Two-year membership in the Scrum Alliance
- 14 PDUs from PMI (Project Management Institute)
- PMI-ACP: This course counts as 14 of the 21 contact hours needed to be eligible for the PMI-ACP certification.

Vitality Chicago | We Help Teams THRIVE and Organizations TRANSFORM